Appears only a private apology is required...we believe in an equal playing field.

Hi all,

If any Candidates break the following rules for more than a year or treat or intend too or fail to comply with the authorisation on material, we are of the impression that Warrick Lampp who laid down the rules at the candidates meeting will only require a private apology. We believe just as with request for LGOIMA which are made public so should this as a civic duty. We believe that there are no real repercussions other than a private apology required.

See the link at the end for details. We have advised this is what we would be doing but have had no response. As we believe in transparency and honesty and all should be on the same playing field to be fair to all, as we believed the rules were put in place to do. But in our opinion are not even a formal acknowledgement of this seems to be required.

Hence email is being openly shared as we believe in letting others have all facts and decide for themselves if they believe this ok or not. Or if they should be pulled up are able to use this as a stake in the ground starting point. Personally, we are disappointed as attending the meeting on candidates with Warwick Lampp at the Upper Hutt City Council Buildings and felt he laid down the law as did his power point, but we have seen this appears not the case.
